St. John's Anglican Church and Green

In the heart of Rockwood, Hwy. 7 and Guelph Street

Just 2 kilometres from the proposed Hidden Quarry site

Look for the CRC booth across from the mushroom display.

This important message is brought to you by two fellow members of the CRC -- Joyce Hill and Linda Skoropad

At the Mushroom Fest we will have a large booth overflowing with IRRESISTIBLE hand-crafted items made by many talented CRC volunteers. There is something for everyone, great gifts, Christmas stocking surprises, decorations and more. Our proceeds will support the CRC – so make us your first stop that day!

Joyce: Let me tell you a little more about this picture of owls on a branch. We've titled them "Looking out for our community!" These owls are rice-filled hand warmers (45 seconds in the Microwave) designed by a Quilters' Guild in Victoria B.C. We have more than 100 for sale and our owls were made by Linda Skoropad of Milton, Elizabeth Hill of Denver Colorado. and Amy Hill of Steamboat Springs Colorado. We're sure you'll want to have some for Rockwood's Parade of Lights in December!

Linda: Our merchandise will be displayed with signage to identify the amazing CRC members who made them and where they live. Joyce's house is the depository for all good gifts that enhance the theme. For example, she has received adjustable aprons with large mushroom pockets made and designed by Acton Seniors Craft Coordinator Sheila Foster.

Joyce: I also have grape vine and bittersweet wreaths with dried flowers etc. from the Hill farm on the Eramosa 6th Line and from the downed limbs after last winter's Great Ice Storm; bird feeders for the winter birds ( you add peanut butter or suet to wild bird seed and pack the mixture into the drilled cups of the log.)
